PLACES TO SEE:

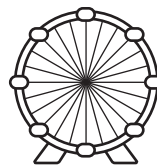

Helix Bridge

- Singapore's longest walking bridge, located in the Marina Bay area.
- The bridge's design was inspired by the structure of human DNA.
- It was built using 650 tonnes of stainless steel. That's about the weight of 145,000 elephants!
- At night, the bridge is illuminated with lights that reflect off the water of the marina.

Merlion Park

- Home of Singapore's national icon, the Merlion.
- Artist Lim Nang Seng created the Merlion sculpture with help from his 8 kids.
- The Merlion combines a fish's body, to represent Singapore's history as a fishing village, and a lion's head, because Singapore's original name was Singapura, which means "Lion City."

FUN FACTS:

- Singapore is one of the only places in the world that is both a city and a country!
- Singapore's Jewel Changi Airport is home to the world's largest indoor waterfall! It's more than 12 stories tall.
- This city also has Asia's largest observation wheel, which takes you soaring high above the city.
- Singapore has 4 nature reserves and more than 300 parks.
